Anger fuels anger, so the calmer you can remain, the quicker your partner's anger subsides. Shouting at a partner in a rage escalates her anger, and joining a passive aggressive partner in sulking can make the situation continue for ever. Acknowledge your partner's feelings.

Dealing with Anger in a Relationship - dummies

A disagreement with your partner NEVER warrants rage. Rage is a form of abuse and is NEVER justified unless someone is being raped, attacked, or molested. If this is the first time that rage has happened in your relationship, or it's a continual occurrence, there are no simple techniques to make everything right in that moment.
