The atlas also seeks to situate the Great Irish Famine in the context of a number of world famines. To achieve these goals and understandings, the atlas includes contributions from a wide range of scholars who are experts in their fields - from the arts, folklore, geography, history, archaeology, Irish and English languages and literatures.

~~Atlas of the Great Irish Famine - AbeBooks~~

The Atlas of the Great Irish Famine does not claim to speak for the one million men, women, and children who starved or succumbed to related diseases in Ireland between 1845 and 1852. It begins with Eavan Boland's poem, "That the Silence of Cartography is Limited". This seems to represent an acknowledgement of the near-futility of attempting to represent the reality of the Famine, of ...

Review by John Bruton. Atlas of the Great Irish Famine Edited by John Crowley, William J Smyth and Mike Murphy Published by Cork University Press. This magnificent book was given to me as a 2012 Christmas gift by my wife, Finola, and daughter, Mary Elizabeth. I only managed to find the time to read it a year later, over the Christmas holiday of 2013.
