Barcelonins seek out the vast Parc de Collserola, up in the hills, for an escape from city life. There are walking and cycling trails throughout the park, which is dotted with farmhouse-style restaurants. Pick up a map of the various routes from the info centre at Carretera de l'Església 92, close to the Baixador de Vallvidrera FGC train station.

Few would disagree that Australia's largest city has one of the world's most spectacular urban coastlines. And it's possible to walk the entire thing - all 94km of it - if you have a week to spare. The walk begins at Barrenjoey, at the tip of Sydney's northern beaches, and plods a sandy course to Manly before heading inland to the Harbour Bridge and southern shores of Sydney Harbour.

This Lonely Planet book is divided into sixteen trails. There are marked starting points for each one on a map of the city, but no directions about getting from one attraction to the next along the trail. That must be the job of the adults. The groupings include history, castles, shopping, sports, parks, outdoor recreations, and food.
