God And Money How We

God and Money (formerly titled Through the Needle) takes the reader along on their journey to the audacious conclusion that God calls Christians to a far more radical task than building wealth. He calls them to give abundantly, and to lay aside their tendencies to become Spenders or Savers.

God and Money: How We Discovered True Riches at Harvard ...

Despite the Bible's many warnings against it, the idea that wealth is a sign of God's favor and that the poor have done something to deserve their condition persists as an undercurrent today that is sometimes used to justify a callous attitude toward those who are poor. Related verses: Proverbs 15:16-17,...

Free from Money, Rich Toward God | Desiring God

Jesus does not say we cannot love both God and money. He says we cannot serve both God and money. One of them will be more important to us than the other. And if money is what's most important to us, we will come to hate and despise God, because God tells us that we should not put money first—and we don't want God telling us what to do.

What Does the Bible Say About Money and Wealth?

Money and things are a big part of life, and therefore God intends them to be a big part of worship — since all of life is to be worship. So the way you worship with your money and your possessions is to get them and use them and lose them in a way that shows how much you treasure God — not money. That's what this text is about.

Magnifying God with Money | Desiring God

Jesus spoke more about money than he did about sex, heaven, and hell. Money is a big deal to Jesus. There must be something really dangerous about money. He said, "Again I tell you, it is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich person to enter the kingdom of God" (Matthew 19:24).
