Speaking

Rubrics are used to assess ESL student speaking competencies with the goal of students working toward mastery.

Rubrics differ some when assessing students of different ages.

In order to have academic language development in my class, in the the 4 domains, reading, speaking, listening and writing, I need to include key vocabulary in the lesson, peer interaction and meaningful activities.

Listening to an anchor standard. Some Common Core assessments are testing listening as part of the English Language Arts portion. In states such as Florida, which is not using the Common Core standards, there is still a significant portion of the ELA state exam in the middle grades based on listening.

A common question that I get from people is how to evaluate an ESL or EFL speaking test. Although there are different ways to conduct ESL speaking assessment, I do the 1-1 conversation with a random partner style.. This rubric is appropriate for a conversation between two students, but not for a presentation or speech style of test, or conversation with the teacher.
