What is the best meditation cushion? The best meditation cushion is the one that allows you to sit with stability and comfort, having the knees touch the floor and the pelvis slightly rolling forward. The meditation cushion shape and filling that will be better varies from person to person, but in general a wheel type cushion filled with buckwheat hulls or wool is recommended.

The Cushion in the Road revisits themes the Pulitzer Prize-winning novelist, poet, essayist, and activist has addressed throughout her career: racism, Africa, solidarity with the Palestinian people, the presidential campaign of Barack Obama, Cuba, healthcare, and the work of Aung San Suu Kyi. In doing so, Walker explores her conflicting impulses to retreat into inner contemplation and to remain deeply engaged with the world.
