The Faith What Christians Believe

The Faith is a book for our troubled times and for decades to come, for Christians and non-Christians alike. It is the most important book Chuck Colson and Harold Fickett have ever written: a thought-provoking, soul-searching, and powerful manifesto of the great, historical central truths of Christianity that have sustained believers through the centuries.

The Faith: What Christians Believe, Why They Believe It ...

"The Faith" is a very basic primer in the basic tenets of the Christian faith. It's very readable, but a bit light. It does a terrific job of focusing on the things that all Christians--Catholic, Orthodox, and Protestant--have in common rather than the things that divide them.

The Faith: What Christians Believe, Why They Believe It ...

In this powerful book, Chuck Colson and Harold Fickett identify Christianity's two great contemporary threats-anti-theism and radical Islam--and a third challenge: Christians who no longer understand their faith or the biblical truths upon which it is founded. There has never been a time, they say, when we needed more the strong, culture-building, life-affirming influence of biblical Christianity.

The Faith: What Christians Believe, Why They Believe it ...

Christian Faith is Apostolic . We often speak about personal faith. That's good, because you have to believe for yourself; nobody else can believe for you. But Christian faith is more than personal; it is apostolic. To be a Christian means that you share the same faith as the apostles. We often ask people, "Do you have a personal faith?"

Our Christian Beliefs

Almost every Christian makes some distinction between essentials of the faith and non-essentials. The distinction itself is fairly uncontroversial. But what exactly are the essentials? That's a bit tougher. There are a number of ways to answer that question. We could look at church history and what God's people have always believed.

What Are the Essentials of the Christian Faith?

In one sense, faith in Christianity is often discussed in terms of believing God's promises, trusting in his faithfulness, and relying on God's character and faithfulness to act. Some of the definitions in the history of Christian theology have followed the biblical formulation in Hebrews 11:1: "the assurance of things hoped for, the conviction of things not seen".
